Global Forum for Publishers

GreyNet International is proud to announce that the Global Forum for Publishers in Grey Literature will be hosted by TIB – Leibniz Information Centre for Science and Technology on June 8-9, 2026 in Hannover, Germany. PubForum'26 will provide a joint platform of stakeholders in grey literature. Publishers in grey literature are from various sectors and levels of (non)government, academics, and business. The list of document types both in textual and non-textual formats is ever increasing, much like the diverse coverage of topics concerning science and society. Publishers in grey literature are at the forefront of information and scholarly communication. They are not only responsible for the review process but also for rich metadata and persistent identifiers unique to their publications, authors, organizations, and funders. https://www.greynet.org/pubforum26.html

PubForum'26 – First Call for Papers

Global Forum for Publishers

Participants seeking to present a paper dealing with a topic on publishing grey literature are invited to submit an English language abstract between 200-400 words. The abstract should introduce the topic, method of approach, and (anticipated) results of the work in progress, work package, or ongoing operations. Abstracts in MSWord must be emailed to info@greynet.org on or before February 15th 2026. https://www.greynet.org/pubforum26/callforpapers.html
