GL[10] Call-for-Papers 1

For the past two decades grey literature has grown exponentially in relation to commercially published literature. The grey literature community realizes that while the challenges faced at the First International Conference on Grey Literature in 1993 may not have all been resolved, solutions today lay in a whole new order, on yet another scale and magnitude than ever before. GL[10] seeks to address the challenges that still remain, while dealing with even newer challenges and an infrastructure that can effectively integrate them. The themes in this year's Call-for-Papers include:

- Born digital and web-based grey: Challenges for library systems and collections
- Interoperability in the Grey Grid: Data, metadata, datasets, and databanks
- Non-text and multimedia grey literature, the signs of our times
- Grey Life Cycle: Uses, applications, and impact of grey literature on Information Society
- Towards Grey Scholarship: Research, Education, and other policy driven programmes

From York to GL10, The British Library 1978-2008 2

In December 1978, the British Library hosted the York Seminar. This event led to the establishment of EAGLE, the European Association for Grey Literature Exploitation and its SIGLE-database. Through the years, The British Library contributed 40% of SIGLE's more than 800,000 records. This year, 30 years on, it will not go unnoticed that The British Library is represented on the GL[10] Program Committee and that BL is one of the start sponsors to this international S&T event. Neither will it go unnoticed that The British Library has taken on Associate Membership in GreyNet and as such is counted among the Corporate Authors to both GreyNet's serial and non-serial publications on grey literature.

GL[10] Program Committee meets on May 16, 2008 1

On 16 May 2008, the Program Committee will meet in Nancy, France to evaluate the abstracts submitted during the Call-for-Papers and to finalize the GL10 Conference Program and Schedule. The Chairperson is Dr. Joachim Schöpfel from INIST-CNRS. Participants who seek to present a paper at GL10 are invited to submit an abstract in English between 300-400 words. The abstract should deal with the problem/goal, the research method/procedure, an indication of costs related to the project, as well as the anticipated results/conclusions of the research. The due date for receipt of abstracts is May 1st, 2008. For further details see, http://www.textrelease.com/callforpapers.html

Brian Hitson, Associate Director DOE/OSTI to Keynote GL[10] 2

The U.S. Department of Energy's Office of Scientific and Technical Information has held representation on five of the ten GL Program Committees. This year, DOE/OSTI will have an even more marked presence in the person of Brian Hitson, Associate Director DOE/OSTI. Mr. Hitson has agreed to provide the Keynote Address during the GL10 Opening Session. Among other duties, Mr. Hitson is responsible for international information exchange programs, administrative and financial management, cost-reimbursable activities, limited access information programs, and the digitization and preservation of a 1.2 million scientific document repository. As part of his international responsibilities, Mr. Hitson coordinated the development of the global science gateway, WorldWideScience.org and the establishment of its multilateral governance structure, the WorldWideScience Alliance. http://www.textrelease.com/textreleasehome.html

EBSCO, A Start Sponsor 4 years running 3

EBSCO Publishing now sponsors the GL-Conference Series four years running! EBSCO is the world's most prolific aggregator of full text journals including TGJ, The Grey Journal. In 2005, TextRelease entered into an electronic licensing relationship with EBSCO Publishing. The full text of articles in The Grey Journal (TGJ) can be found in Library, Information Science & Technology Abstracts (LISTA-FT database). http://www.textrelease.com/textreleasehome/gl10sponsors.html

INIST-CNRS, A Start Sponsor and GreyNet Associate Member 4

For the sixth year running, the Institute for Scientific and Technical Information (INIST) a subsidiary of CNRS, the National Centre for Scientific Research in France sponsors the GL Conference Series. INIST houses a huge library with extensive collections available to the public through document delivery services. Indexing services are also provided for (grey) literature in Science, Technology, Medicine, Humanities, and the Social Sciences. INIST has recently pioneered the OpenSIGLE Project and in so doing rescues a quarter of a century European Grey Literature. http://opensigle.inist.fr/

NYAM, Conference Sponsor and Associate Member 2

"Recipient of the Louise Darling Medal 2008 for Distinguished Achievement in Collection Development in the Health Sciences"

The New York Academy of Medicine, an Associate Member of GreyNet, has signed-on as sponsor of GL10. This marks the fifth year straight that NYAM sponsors the International Conference Series on Grey Literature. NYAM is one of the foremost-recognized organizations in the field of grey literature. The Academy Library seeks new ways to offer and enhance access to quality health information. Today, NYAM looks to initiate and support new technologies and services that improve the access to health for its wide audience of researchers, students, Academy Fellows, and the general public. The Grey Literature Report, a bimonthly web-based publication along with the detailed guide to organizations and agencies producing grey literature in the fields of Health Policy and Public Health are but two examples of this.

GreySource Frontrunner 2008 3

Information for Practice (IP) edited by Professor Gary Holden, New York University; Silver School of Social Work has been voted GreySource Frontrunner 2008. In total, fifty-five ballots were cast for 6 of the 70+ web resources and collections indexed in GreySource. IP's mission is to help social service professionals throughout the world conveniently maintain an awareness of news regarding the profession and emerging scholarship. Prof. Holden will receive a two-day pass for the Tenth International Conference on Grey Literature. His work on "Information for Practice" is truly an example of best practice in the field of grey literature. http://www.nyu.edu/socialwork/ip/

Editorial Support for Non-Native English Speaking Authors 4

Non-native English-speaking authors, who submit abstracts of their papers to the GL10 Program Committee, may request editorial support. This is a complimentary service offered upon the explicit request of the author(s). This editorial service not only hopes to encourage content contributions from non-native English speakers, but also seeks to facilitate the work of the Program Committee. Simply type, "Editorial service requested" above your abstract and submit on or before May 1, 2008. For guidelines on the submission of abstracts http://www.textrelease.com/callforpapers.html

GreyNet Award Recipient 2008 1

Anne Gentil-Beccot from CERN - European Organization for Nuclear Research is the GreyNet Award Recipient 2008. This award is in recognition for her contribution to the field of grey literature over the past year. Nominations for the GreyNet Award are based on (1) Results from the GL9 Participant Evaluation Forms, (2) Publication of the author's full-text paper in the GL9 Conference Proceedings, (3) Selection and publication of the author's conference paper as a journal article, whereby research results originating in the GL-Conference Series are exported and become accessible via other channels, (4) Prior history of the author and her organization on the topic of grey literature, and (5) Willingness to attend the GreyNet Award Dinner in order to personally receive the honor. This year's GreyNet Award Dinner will take place on December 7th 2008 in Amsterdam. http://www.greynet.org/greynethome.html

OPENSIGLE

SYSTEM FOR INFORMATION ON GREY LITERATURE IN EUROPE

GreyNet has recently signed on to the OpenSIGLE repository and in so doing seeks to preserve and make openly available research results originating in the International Conference Series on Grey Literature. Last month, the first test batch containing records from the Eighth International Conference on Grey Literature (GL8, 2006) was uploaded. A few minor problems that were encountered have since been successfully resolved; and, soon these metadata records and corresponding attachments will be available for search and retrieval in OpenSIGLE. For it is here, where the crossroads of more than 25 years of bibliographic information on grey literature intersects with 15 years of research on grey literature. http://opensigle.inist.fr/handle/opensigle/697753

Swets, the newest Sponsor in the GL-Series 1

Swets is the newest sponsor in the GL-Conference Series and will have a significant role in the Tenth International Conference on Grey Literature this December in Amsterdam. Swets is the world's leading subscription services company with more than 100 years of experience in maximizing the return on investments in time and money for clients and publishers in today's complex information marketplace. With clients in over 160 countries, Swets has more than twenty offices around the world. Swets provides the most comprehensive and sophisticated e-commerce platform currently available in its field. For the past two years, Swets has been included in E-Content Magazine's '100 companies that matter most in the Digital Content Industry'. And in 2006, Swets appeared as number 95 in FEM Business - Top 500 Companies in The Netherlands'. Further, Swets is the only subscription services company to be awarded ISO 9001:2000 certification on a global basis, a testament to its impeccable operation and client service procedures. http://www.textrelease.com/textreleasehome/gl10sponsors.html

GL10 Poster Presentations 2

Poster Presentations are scheduled on both days of the conference. Speakers will have the opportunity to briefly introduce themselves in the Main Hall before proceeding to an adjoining conference room. There they will simultaneously present their posters in an informal setting. The format for Poster Presentations is that of a PowerPoint Presentation, which will be viewed in small groups directly from the Speakers' laptops. Below are the titles of posters that have already been submitted. The order and day on which each speaker presents will be finalized one month prior to the conference.

City of Amsterdam to co-sponsor the GL10 Reception 1

Amsterdam City Council has agreed to co-sponsor the Tenth International Conference on Grey Literature. The City of Amsterdam is one of the original sponsors in the GL-Series. At the First International Conference in 1993, the City hosted the Inaugural Reception in the Amsterdam RAI. In 2003 at the Fifth International Conference, Amsterdam hosted the Inaugural Reception in its City Hall. This year, Amsterdam will co-host the GL10 Inaugural Reception during an evening cruise. The canal boat will depart from the dock just opposite Central Station at 19:00 hours on Monday, December 8th and will disembark at the same location. Invitations and directions will be printed in the Program Book.

UvA Master's Credit linked to GL10 Student Assignments 2

Eleven masters students from the Department of Media, Archive and Information Science at the University of Amsterdam will be attending the Tenth International Conference on Grey Literature. Each of the graduate students will submit afterwards a paper based one or more themes dealt with during the conference and this will count for a quarter of their final course grade. These graduate students in collaboration with their instructor, Dr. Henk Voorbij, will likewise be encouraged to submit their completed texts for review to The Grey Journal (TGJ).
http://www.greynet.org/thegreyjournal.html

GL10 Early-Bird Registration draws to a close 3

The conference registration fee includes attendance during the Plenary and Poster Sessions, a copy of the GL10 Program and Abstract Book, the full-text of the Conference Papers and PowerPoint Presentations on CD-Rom, as well as the conference pouch and participant badge. Also included are lunches, refreshments during the morning and afternoon breaks, and the Inaugural Reception. Early-Bird registrations close on October 10, 2008. After this date a surcharge will be added to the conference fee. For those who will be booking a hotel during their stay in Amsterdam, three recommendations can be found on the conference site. Please make your reservation directly with the hotel of choice and book in advance in order to guarantee your accommodation. http://www.textrelease.com/gl10registration.html

Just as the GreyNet website has undergone a whole new look and navigation for net-users so too has TextRelease, the GL10 Conference website. Each of the main web pages:

- TextRelease Home
- GL10 Conference
- GL10 Program
- GL10 Registration
- GL Publications

allows immediate access to related web pages without the need to scroll up and down excessively. We kindly ask you to check-it out and let us know how we can better serve you?

The Grey Journal wins National Award 1

The Victorine van Schaick Prize awarded by the NVB, Netherlands Association for Library, Information and Knowledge Professionals was presented to The Grey Journal's Editor during the opening of this year's Online Conference Netherlands on October 7th 2008. "As journal editor, I am both appreciative to the jury in their unanimous decision and to the various stakeholders who have contributed to the success of this journal. Namely, the Associate Editors, Technical Editor, Corporate Authors, Licensing Agent, and more than 100 authors who have published in The Grey Journal since its launch in 2005". (Dominic Farace, TGJ Editor)

Limited Space still available for GL10 Poster Presentations 3

GL 10

Poster Presentations are scheduled on both days of the conference. Speakers will have the opportunity to briefly introduce themselves in the Main Hall before proceeding to an adjoining conference room. There, they will simultaneously present their posters in an informal setting. The format for Poster Presentations is that of a PowerPoint Presentation viewed in small groups directly from the Speakers' laptops. For those who may still be interested in presenting during one of the Poster Sessions, please contact the Program and Conference Bureau. http://www.textrelease.com/gl10registration.html

GreyNet's Website is redesigned to house increased Content 4

The annual Conference Series on Grey Literature generates increased and various types of information, which are then harvested and made online available. The Site Map contains 5 main webpages, each of which are further subdivided:

- GreyNet Home
- GL Compendium
- GreySource Index
- GreyText Archive
- The Grey Journal

The Netherlands is once again Host to the GL Conference Series 1

With less than a month till the GL10 Opening Session, I take this opportunity to invite you to participate in the Tenth International Conference on Grey Literature that will be held in Science Park Amsterdam on 8-9 December 2008. If you are an information professional working in areas of librarianship, publishing, education, and/or research, you will want to take part in this international S&T event. Currently, participants from more than 60 organizations in some 20 countries worldwide are registered to attend. http://www.textrelease.com/gl10registration.html

Directions to the Canal Boat Pier for the GL10 Reception 2

What better way could there be of exploring Amsterdam's city center than by going on a tour through the city's canals? This is definitely an experience not to be missed during a visit to Amsterdam. This year, the City of Amsterdam will co-host the GL10 Inaugural Reception during an evening cruise. The canal boat will depart from the dock just opposite Amsterdam Central Station at 19:00 hours on Monday, December 8th 2008 and will disembark at the same location. The canal boat pier is managed by Holland International Rondvaart located at Prins Hendrikkade 33. Further information will be available in the GL10 Program Book.

Public Transportation to the GL10 Conference Center 3

For those conference participants using public transportation to and from the GL10 Conference Center, please note that from Amsterdam Central Station you can either take the train or subway to Amstel Train Station, or you can take the train to Muiderpoort Train Station. Transfer from either of these train stations to Bus No. 40, which takes you to Science Park Amsterdam. This circle bus line leaves about every 15 minutes from both Amstel Station and Muiderpoort Station. Exit at the Bus stop labelled "Kruislaan 413", which is directly in front of the gate leading to the Conference Center.

SCIENCE PARK AMSTERDAM

Science Park Amsterdam: A world of science in a city of inspiration 4

Science Park Amsterdam is already establishing a reputation as the home of a number of important knowledge-based institutions. These include the Faculty of Science of the Universiteit van Amsterdam and internationally renowned research institutes like the National Institute for Nuclear Physics and High Energy Physics (NIKHEF), the Institute for Atomic and Molecular Physics (AMOLF) and the National Research Institute for Mathematics and Computer Science (CWI), as well as SARA Computing and Networking Services. Science Park Amsterdam also houses more than 80 innovative companies. The photograph shows an aerial view of the area.

GL10 Program Book now in print 2

This year's 147 page Program Book is the most complete and comprehensive in the GL-Series. The contents consist of bibliographic information, abstracts, biographical notes, and the printouts of the authors' PowerPoint slides in notepad format. For all appearances, the GL10 Program Book is part one of a two-volume work, the second volume being the GL10 Conference Proceedings forthcoming in January 2009.
