Business Report
Autumn 2015

TextRelease/GreyNet
Grey Literature Network Service

This business report is intended to provide a comprehensive, up to date overview of the workings of TextRelease and the International Grey Literature Network Service. TextRelease is an independent program and conference bureau specializing in the field of grey literature and networked information.

GreyNet, Grey Literature Network Service, was founded in 1992 and re-launched in 2003 under the leadership and direction of TextRelease. Since its re-launch, it has developed into an international network capable of serving various sectors of government, academics, business and industry as well as subject based communities producing, processing, distributing, and preserving grey literature. GreyNet's mission is dedicated to research, publication, open access, and education in the field of grey literature; and this requires now more than ever an infrastructure commensurate to its real potential.

In order to further expand and develop future capabilities for the Grey Literature Network Service, an infrastructure other than that of a sole proprietorship is essential. While TextRelease provided a basis for GreyNet's re-launch, it alone cannot render the needed capital and investment for GreyNet's potential to develop and expand on the global information landscape. The ideal organization would be focused internationally and have genuine interest in the field of grey literature both in digital and print formats.

GreyNet might do well to model upon an infrastructure of that of an international association or to merge with a major partner seeking to enhance its position on the information landscape. In either case, TextRelease will strive to cooperate with leading organizations in the further development of GreyNet International. To this end, GreyNet has expanded its current infrastructure to include three new committees alongside the conference program committee. More on this and other developments are found in this Business Report.

TextRelease   Products, Services, and Professional Activities

As Program and Conference Bureau, the main activities of TextRelease include the identification and negotiation with potential conference hosts for the annual conference venues and the identification and acquisition of conference sponsors and advertisers. The formation of Program Committees and Chairpersons along with the initial draft of conference themes incorporated in the announcements and call-for-papers. TextRelease maintains contact with authors throughout the lead-up to the conference providing them with guidelines for their content submissions and informing them of their status on the conference program. TextRelease further processes the conference registrations, organizes a suited social program, facilitates hotel accommodations, and coordinates and implements a host of web based and other promotional activities in order to raise conference participation. TextRelease is further responsible for the design, compilation, editing, and publication of conference materials and documents issuing from the Conference Series. Foremost among these are the conference site, newsletters, program books, and conference proceedings.

International Conference Series on Grey Literature, 1993-1999

The GL Conference Series began as a biannual event in the early '90s, however with its relaunch in 2003, the conference series became an annual event. The GL Conference Series maintains a transatlantic character alternating between Europe and North America. However, participants from recognized organizations worldwide actively sponsor and participate.

In providing an infrastructure commensurate to its mission and core activities, GreyNet welcomed three new committees in 2014. These convened alongside the existing Program Committee and together they advance GreyNet's fourfold mission dedicated to research, publication, open access, and education in the field of grey literature

GreyNet's Sustained mix of Income and Open Sources
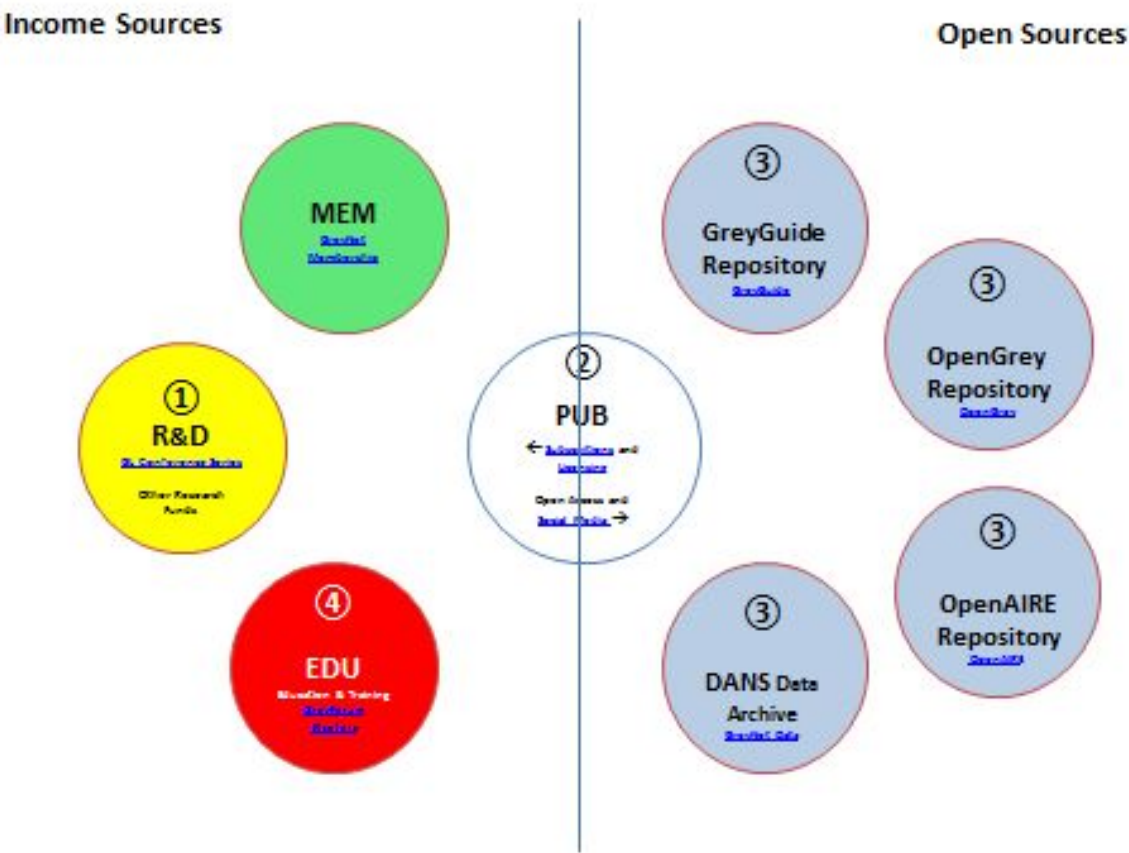

GreyNet Corporate Authorship

The Associate Members together constitute GreyNet's corporate authorship, which is tasked with capturing various types of information including factual, bibliographic, biographic, documentary and full-text along with accompanying metadata, research data, and post-publication data issuing from the annual Conference Series on Grey Literature as well as related seminars and workshops in this field of information. This body of textual and non-textual content is then further compiled, edited, and published in a number of serial works.

GreyNet's Open Access Resources

Over 340 metadata records originating in the GL Conference Series including their corresponding full-text papers, PowerPoint slides, abstracts, biographical notes, and post-publication commentaries are available via the OpenGrey Repository http://www.opengrey.eu. This web-based resource has become a significant reference tool for GreyNet's own referral service. Since its re-launch in 2003, GreyNet maintains solely Non-Exclusive Rights Agreements with its author base. In 2005, GreyNet organized together with INIST-CNRS the 7th International Conference on Grey Literature titled "Open Access to Grey Resources" and in the spring of 2006 issued a clarification on the 'Grey Road to Open Access' in which an alternative to the green and gold roads was suggested. In 2007, GreyNet (data provider) signed an agreement with INIST (service provider) in which all of its past and future collections of conference preprints would be openly accessible in the OpenGrey Repository (formerly OpenSIGLE). In 2009, GreyNet purchased back the rights to content from its first four conference proceedings (1994-2000), making these also openly accessible and thus guaranteeing that its collections would be comprehensive. Since its re-launch, GreyNet has also sought to engage open dialogue and exchange with commercial publishers related to both publishing and research. Content originating within GreyNet's author base has been further published via journals, a licensed database, as well as in monograph form.

Agreement has been reached between OpenGrey and OpenAIRE, whereby GreyNet's Collection of Conference Preprints in the OpenGrey Repository are now harvested and accessible in OpenAIRE via its Discovery services.

GreyNet has completed the second phase of an Enhanced Publications Project (EPP) in which research data accompanying conference preprints are entered in the DANS Data Archive and cross-linked to metadata records in the OpenGrey Repository. After the project's completion in 2012, research data accompanying conference preprints in the GL-Series are requested as an integral part of the annual call-for-papers and is now embedded in GreyNet's workflow. More on this project can be found at www.greynet.org/opengreyrepository/enhancedpublications.html

The Guide to Good Practices and Resources in Grey Literature http://greyguide.isti.cnr.it/ offers information professionals, practitioners and students common ground for good practice in grey literature. The GreyGuide is an online forum and repository of good practice in the field of grey literature and seeks to capture proposed as well as published practices dealing with the supply and demand sides of grey literature. This is a collaborative project involving GreyNet International and ISTI-CNR Pisa, Italy.

GreyNet's Web Access Portal is the GreyGuide

The GreyGuide portal redefines GreyNet's position on the information landscape

In early 2014, GreyNet reached agreement with the National Research Center in Pisa, the service provider for the GreyGuide Repository. GreyNet collections and content that are as yet only accessible either via its website or allied conference site are now in the process of migrating to the GreyGuide Repository. In this way, the GreyGuide will function as GreyNet's web access portal. This will allow for combined search, browse, and retrieval capability across collections - where standardized metadata and full-text can be online harvested. Now, alongside good practices in the GreyGuide, GreyNet's in-house collections of persons and in the field of grey literature, as well as projects and conference proposals are openly accessible via the GreyGuide.

The Pisa Declaration on Policy Development for Grey Literature Resources

In April 2014, information professionals from prominent European academic and research centers met in Pisa to address issues dealing with the policy and management of grey literature resources. This meeting resulted in the formulation of the Pisa Declaration on Policy Development for Grey Literature Resources – a 15 point roadmap, which serves as a guide for organizations involved in the production, publication, access and use of grey literature well into this 21st Century. The Pisa Declaration much like the Budapest, Bethesda, and Berlin Declarations are neither inventions of the mind nor improvements in doing the same things better – instead, they offer a different approach in dealing with information and data to meet the market needs and requirements of today. Until now, the problem was the lack of cooperation and coordination between and among organizations dealing with grey literature. However, the time of going it alone is now ended. The Pisa Declaration marks the close of an era of ad hoc policy and decision making with regard to grey literature resources. Since its original publication in English, the Pisa Declaration has been translated into 18 languages and more translations are still forthcoming.

Financial Indicators

Since its relaunch in 2003, GreyNet has increased and diversified its sources of revenue. Where it initially was dependent almost solely on participant fees issuing from the international conference series, it has since increased revenues issuing from membership fees, sponsorship fees, advertising, the sale of publications, journal licensing, royalties, as well as educational and training initiatives. In 2014, membership and sponsorship fees accounted for 54% of the revenues, conference and workshops fees accounted for 22%, and publication fees were 23%. Together, these three sources of revenue accounted for 99% of GreyNet's gross income.

GreyNet's Main Sources of Revenue
As seen in the chart above, revenues issuing directly from conference fees have considerably decreased over the years, while the number of conference participants has not. This can be accounted for by the fact that GreyNet has acquired more organizational members as well as conference sponsors. And, their paid membership and sponsorship fees entitles them to participation in the conferences. Another factor that explains the decrease in conference revenues are the reductions now offered to authors, students, and employees of host organizations.

Gross Revenues averaged over the last 3 years € 42,523

2008	2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014
€43,713	€46,304	€40,900	€41,164	€45,803	40,189	41,578

These figures are based on direct revenues, while other indirect revenues also have to be taken into consideration. For example, a conference host that provides the location, equipment, and catering for the annual event circumvents costs to the Program and Conference Bureau. A sponsor for a social event linked to a conference is yet another example of indirect or non-accounted revenues without which TextRelease/GreyNet would be unable to meet its operating costs.

Operating Costs

Direct and indirect costs associated with TextRelease and its Grey Literature Network Service include human resources, office maintenance, travel and lodging (related to site visits, conferences, workshops, committee meetings and other field work), conference materials and publications, as well as special events (annual award dinner, social programs, reception, conference tours, etc.). An overview of such costs are provided in the table below.

SWOT Analysis

Strengths

Leadership role, an established and recognized international information network, GreyNet as Brand Name, Corporate Memory, Partnerships and Agreements, Good Will, Commitment to Open Access, More than 20 years expertise in the field of grey literature, Sustained information resources, and a track record of before and after sales delivery and service, Established banking and fiscal control.

Weaknesses

ICT issues such as website functionality including graphic design, online ordering, use/user statistics and their analyses, underdeveloped marketing, sales, and promotional activities. Insufficient reserves for further investment. A sole proprietorship seen as an obstacle to potential membership. Insufficient presence at key national and international conferences where grey literature is either directly or indirectly related to the themes and programs.

Opportunities

Further role in training and education, as well as research and (digital) publication. Ability to upgrade, enhance, and leverage existing products and services. Increased potential for sponsorship. Better access to funding and grants. Streamlining the workflow through outsourcing. Further cooperation with the open access community as well as further cooperation with commercial publishers. More use of available social media and networks.

Threats

Continuity, inability to respond to growth leading to missed opportunities, infrastructure's command of the ever changing information landscape, the current financial climate.
